Reinforcing the Power of the Capturing Kids’ Hearts® Process

In a Process Champions Implementation Visit, select faculty and administrators receive additional instruction that prepare them to assist and support their peers in the implementation of the Capturing Kids’ Hearts® (CKH) Process.

Teachers face a formidable challenge: they must raise the bar on student performance while competing against social, environmental, and outside pressures as never before. While researchers and district personnel work to determine the most effective curricula, teachers struggle to manage classrooms.

Because the Capturing Kids’ Hearts® 1 Training presents so many transformational ideas and techniques, we encourage schools to reinforce these methods to maintain momentum.

Process Champions Implementation Visit participants receive additional instruction to assist and support their peers, forming a Process Champions team on campus. The team helps their colleagues apply the CKH Process with greater fidelity, leading to transformation of the school’s culture and climate.

Participant Outcomes:

The Process Champions team learns to:

- Mentor colleagues in implementing CKH concepts and skills
- Respond to peers’ questions about how to handle specific student situations
- Model key skills and behaviors
- Support peers in developing their own self-managing groups
